Koz's

Once there was a 12-year-old boy named Gary, who peddled his paperboy bike over to The Poboy Bakery on Franklin Avenue. Upon entering, he was greeted by Mr. Jerry (Seely) the owner. Gary asked for a job and Mr. Jerry handed him a broom. As Gary grew, Mr. Jerry dubbed him Koz (a Komocasi pilot without a plane), because of his antics.

In 1978, Mr. Jerry and Koz moved The Bakery from the corner of Franklin and Filmore in Gentilly to 5321 Franklin, the once Teddy's Meat Market. After fashioning the meat market into a restaurant in the style that only Koz and friends could accomplish, Mr. Jerry and Koz bought the building in 1983. Sadly in November of that year, Uncle Teddy Gabb passed away leaving the upstairs apartment open for Koz and his new wife, Shawn. Koz, Shawn, sons, Max, Gerald, Sam and dog Moose have lived there happily ever since. Until...

Koz always the steadfast protector of The Bakery and his home refused to leave whenever a storm threatened. As he, Max, Roz, Billy, and Otto guarded the homestead; Katrina came knocking and boy did she knock hard. The roof blew off the apartment causing the bedroom ceilings to cave in and the water rose to 10 feet inside The Bakery.

With no restaurant and no place to call home the Gruenigs traveled to Jackson, MS, where they realized they had to get closer to home to help rebuild New Orleans. Through the grace of God and good friends, Darlene and Gerald Thomas leased Koz the restaurant in Harahan.

Fast forward almost four years and Koz and the family were ready to return to New Orleans and make a second home. Although not back in Gentilly we are happy to be in Lakeview and Harahan and look forward to the same warm relationship in these communities that we enjoyed for so many years in Gentilly.

Enjoy!
